

NNIRR

National Network for Immigrant and Refugee Rights

NNIRR has been an active leader in the immigrant rights movement for over 30 years, supporting organizing, education, and capacity-building in communities across the country, including on the US-Mexico border. Placing human rights and human dignity at the center of our collective agenda for change, together we...

DREAM: of a future in which human rights are the central foundation for immigration policy, and core to our values as a country. We dream of border governance that facilitates human mobility and a world in which migration is a choice and not an act of desperation for survival.

RISE: to lift the stories, experiences and leadership of impacted communities to build collective power to shape policy and decision-making spaces.

ORGANIZE: and build multiracial multilingual and multi-generational leadership at the grassroots, through training, leadership development, inter-sectional and local-global organizing, solidarity and alliance-building.

We demand immediate reversal of the harms inflicted on migrant communities.

We believe in the right of mobility, that migrants' rights are human rights, and that no international border can be a zone of exception when it comes to fundamental universal protections.

We commit to campaign for the regularization of migrants, an end to the criminalization of immigrants and the demilitarization of the border.

Visit nnirr.org to see our plans ahead and join us!

- ❖ Become a member: bit.ly/NNIRRMember
- ❖ Donate! bit.ly/Donate-to-NNIRR Every contribution builds toward the collective success of our work.
- ❖ Follow us on social media!

Photo: Big Bend is a pristine ecosystem and sacred cultural land between the US and Mexico, home to interconnected species and site of cross-border resistance to the border "Wall." From this land and community organizing we gain inspiration and hope.

Credits: (Big Bend) Alamy; (Protest image) Joe Piette

@nnirrnw

@NNIRRn

facebook.com/NNIRR